

RECEIVING DATA VIA EMAIL FROM YOUR ONLINE FORM

This form is on the test website:
mulligan.mcsdga.net

Mulligan High School

Alumni Mailing List

First Name: Purina

Last Name: Checkers

Mailing Address: 1234 Checkboard Square

City: St. Louie

State: MO

Zip Code: 12345

Email Address: pcheckers@bogus.com

Committee Interest (Select one.): Publicity

Comments:

This is another example of the impossibility of typing fast and trying to produce meaningful sentences. Those people who are grammatically discriminating will realize that this example's all nonsense, but syntactically correct.

Submit Form Clear Form

Alumni Mailing List - Message (Plain Text)

File Edit View Insert Format Tools Actions Help

Reply Reply to All Forward

From: mulliganwebmaster@mcsdga.net Sent: None

To: mstarke@mcsdga.net

Cc:

Subject: Alumni Mailing List

First Value: Purina
Second: Checkers
Third: 1234 Checkboard Square
Fourth: St. Louie
Fifth: MO
Sixth: 12345
Seventh: pcheckers@bogus.com

List option: publicity

Eighth: This is another example of the impossibility of typing fast and trying to produce meaningful sentences. Those people who are grammatically discriminating will realize that this example is all nonsense, but syntactically correct.

This email message is an example of the way data is transmitted from the online form to an email message. The labels to the left of the colons can be changed to correlate with your intended use. Locate some of these items in your form and underlying code.